Otisco

HISTORY

Otisco has an Indian name, referring to waters dried up or gone away. It was formed March 21, 1806 from parts of Pompey, Marcellus and Tully. Oliver Tuttle built the first frame house in 1804. Chauncey Rust was the first settler bringing his family from LaFayette in April 1801. Lucy Cowles taught the first school in a log house in 1804. The first grist mill was built by Charles Merriman in 1806, first merchant store by Daniel Bennett and the first postmaster was Dr. Luther French at Otisco Center. There were once a woolen and three saw mills on the small stream east and a large business was done there in making fanning mills. In 1855 Otisco held second place in the county in the yield of maple sugar and apples and third in spring wheat.
